

Mr. Shadowland's Nightly Boba Run

By Xuân June

Once upon a time there lived a cat with his sister and his three caretakers. He was named Mr. Shadowlands; his sister was named Luna. One of his caretakers was 7, her name was Lavender, then there was her dad, then there was her mom. Every night his caretakers went to sleep and they went upstairs to the unknown, Mr. Shadowlands would go into the closet where they kept all the treats and other kitty things, there were boxes and behind those boxes he'd find his tuxedo, and his hat and he put on his re-grow mustache powder and he put on his tuxedo. Then he got in his black Porsche. He had accessed it by pressing a button behind one of the boxes and then some of the floor opened and out came the car! He called it the Shadow - mobile! He put his cat shaped key (which he kept in his tuxedo pocket) into the car and he said "Meow! Let's go."

At the time Luna was guarding the door making sure nobody discovered Shadow's secret, and by doing that she was playing with her favorite cat toy as fiercely as she could. Meanwhile, Shadow clicked a green cat-shaped button in his Shadow-Mobile and a ramp appeared and he drove down into the secret underground tunnel illuminated by LED bright lights. He zoomed and zoomed and by doing that he passed lots of other cat famous black cats dressed in tuxedos also in Porsches.

Then BOOM! Out he went and no human suspected him because it was midnight so nobody was out (except cats of course). He drove to Catel Hill and he went to his boba place, Catcat Tee. But then, OH NO! A gigantic line of other spy black cat agents stretched from Catcat Tee to the Curham central park. He was DUMBFOUNDED! How could he wait in line?! This was going to take all night!! His caretakers would wake up and notice he would be gone (Though to be honest, they were late sleepers, they were always taking Lavender to school late). So he knew what he had to do. He climbed up on his car with his extraterrestrial cat claws and then said, "I AM THE SHADOW! THE AMERICAN SHORTHAIR SHADOW! AND I HEREBY DECLARE THAT I WILL BE AT THE FRONT OF THE LINE!" And nobody even noticed him yelling because he was in the back of the super long line that went so far that it went all the way to the Central Bull City Square, otherwise known to the cats as the Central Cat Square because they knew that the statue in the City Square was a Cat not a Bull because they had super keen eyesight and they could see that the skeleton was shaped like a cat with wings!

After shouting, Mr. Shadowlands used his pawesome jump power and jumped all the way over all the cats and landed at the front of the line. He smelled the delicious boba scent as he ordered his extra large taro boba tea with soymilk, extra ice and extra sugar, with one extra large vegan ginger chicken onigiri. And after he got his order, the sweet scrumptious smell of boba tea and onigiri wafted into his super keen nose.

And then he got back into his pawesome Shadow-Mobile, drank his boba, ate his onigiri and went to the Nasher Art Museum to look at art. At midnight, the art museum turned into a cat hangout (With boba and onigiri.) place, otherwise known to cats as the Slash CAT Museum because all of the artists who made the artwork in the museum have the letters "c", "a", and "t" in their names. So it meant that everyone was secretly a CAT! So they called it the Slash CAT Museum! So Mr. Shadowlands went to look at art with his boba tea and onigiri. (Actually by the way, during the day, humans didn't let anyone bring food, but at night, the cats went WILD and it was a hot spot for cats with boba tea and onigiri.) And that's why from this day on, if you have a black cat, it means that you know that you and your cat will have good boba tea for the rest of your life! (And if you have a white and black cat then you also know that you know that you can get away with whatever tricks you do because Luna was trustworthy to Mr. Shadowlands.) (Cat saying "The End")
